A close-up, high-angle shot of a compass rose. The compass is centered in the lower-left quadrant, with its red needle pointing towards the upper-right. The needle is a vibrant red with a metallic base. The compass rose itself is a dark, multi-pointed star shape. The background is a circular dial with the word 'CAREER' written in large, black, serif capital letters, curving along the top edge of the dial. The lighting is warm and directional, coming from the upper right, which creates a strong highlight on the needle and casts soft shadows on the dial and compass rose.
